Born to Quit

The Used

Exercise the demon
That is living up inside you
After all you think you've been through
Just what have you been throughTry to get beside yourself
This tearing at your insides
If you end up on the wrong side
Always standing so strongSharpen up your teeth
Your dreams are more than worth defending
In a fight that's never ending
Go on, go ahead and prove me wrongThe further you go the less you know
You're born to quit, you've blown it
You need to let go of letting go
You're full of shit, you're born to quitSomething supernatural
It seems it could possess you
No malevolence about you
Yeah, that might not be trueHow they kept you demonized
The fucked up situation
How you've killed off all the angels
Taking notice of youSharpen up your teeth
Your dreams are more than worth defending
In a fight that's never ending
Go on, go ahead and prove me wrongThe further you go the less you know
You're born to quit, you've blown it
You need to let go of letting go
You're full of shit, you're born to quit
You've blown it, you're born to quitSharpen up your teeth
Your dreams are more than worth defending
In a fight that's never ending
Go on, go ahead and prove me wrongThe further you go the less you know
You're born to quit, you've blown it
You need to let go of letting go
You're full of shit, you're born to quit
You've blown it, you're born to quit
You've blown it, you've blown it, you've blown it
