

This Hurts

Gentle Bones

Warn me if you do ever come
I'd much rather do without you at all No darling don't lie, don't lie to me no more
I've hurt too far inside, and you've stuck the knife in me too deep This Hurts more than nothing in the world
No apologies can heal the pain in her
Now I'll go, go on explain yourself, the lapse unheard Go go now, save your breath because nothing is the word It's my flaws that you rather narrate, should I calm you back down another day.
Third in a game never played before,
do my efforts count for more.
Calling up the wrong guy, should've played the disguise, come on over get high, take a bow, heave a sigh
Third in a game never played before, no no no
This Hurts more than nothing in the world
No apologies can heal the pain in her
Now I'll go, go on explain yourself, the lapse unheard Go go now, save your breath because nothing is the word This Hurts more than nothing in the world
No apologies can heal the pain in her
Now I'll go, go on explain yourself, the lapse unheard Go go now, save your breath because nothing is the word
If I speak for all the parts I lack, then you'd pull your weight again.
Some they cry out to the world, they'd bleed it all again.
But I've seen it all, I've seen it coming.
Dare I defy
that you've wasted half my life.
