Apache (Intro)

The Shadows

Lonely Silver DoveSweet Apache MaidLonely Silver DoveSweet Apache MaidAlone all alone by the campfireShe dreamed of her love, her delightAway, far away on the prairieHer love Golden Hawk shared the nightSometimes at night with the moon he would comeSweet were the moments they sharedBut with the dawn he was gone with the sunA smoke sign arose from the prairieA breeze sighed a sad morning songThe brave Golden Hawk had departedHad gone to the great, great beyondSometimes at night when there's rain in the skyShe hears her love high aboveHe and his pony go thundering by.
