

No Tears in the Rain

Tad Morose

In my world there is nothing quite like this pain All your dreams, your illusions They're like tears in the rain Eyes stare blank You don't reach don't you need me Can't you see that this needs be and no one else really cares See me See my world in another light So full of life new beginnings and our souls burn so bright I Don't dream I'm falling anymore... In my world There is nothing quite like this pain All your dreams, your illusions They're like tears in the rain
