

Breathe

Seven Channels

It's been so long since you've gone away
And I know things will never be the same
I break it all down so it will shown to be clear
But all the while I'm wishing you were here

In my dreams I can see and feel your face
But next to me sits an empty space
Sometimes life doesn't make any sense to me
I need some time to heal and some space to breathe

I'm breathing you in and I'm breathing you out
I'm breathing you in and I'm breathing you out breathing you in and I'm breathing you out
I'm breathing you in aye yeah

As I lay on the floor and I wonder why
The question lingers why did you die
I thank God for you and the memories
But I still wish you were here with me

I'm breathing you in and I'm breathing you out
I'm breathing you in and I'm breathing you out
breathing you in and I'm breathing you out
I'm breathing you in aye yeah

Gone away and I pray for the strength to Strength to carry on
As I am breathing you in and I'm breathing you out
I still feel you though you're gone

I'm breathing you in and I'm breathing you out
I'm breathing you in and I'm breathing you out
breathing you in and I'm breathing you out I'm breathing you in aye yea

breathing you in and I'm breathing you out
i'm breathing you in and I'm breathing you out
I'm breathing you in and I'm breathing you out breathing you in aye yeah

I'm breathing you in and I'm breathing you out
I'm breathing you in and I'm breathing you out
breathing you in and I'm breathing you out
I'm breathing you in aye yeah
