

The Gummy Bear Song

Emezie

And though the world may seem so ugly and mean
When you open your eyes and all that you see
Are the horrible things, that pain that they bring
Well I'm here to prove to all of y'all that life can be sweet
Because the most important things in life are always the biggest Sometimes you gotta open your eyes and see through the sickness
You say you're having' a bad day, your life is getting away from you
Well sit back, relax, and listen up because I can relate
People are always asking a doctor for the cure
How I manage to crack a smile in a world so impure
Well, its not an injection, just a friendly suggestion by the diamond in the rough like a measles infection
You see there never is a word I never say a third time unless
I ever need to get a little clever in a rhyme
So love it or leave it but don't stop believing and never stop smiling
Damn, I said it again

Your girlfriend doesn't love you and your life is a joke
Your car is out of gas and now you're totally broke
But the saddest and the baddest luck can never compare
To a sunny summer afternoon with fresh gummy bears

I'm like a one-thread guitar with a billion strings
I may be difficult to use but I play anything
I'm a man of many talents
(A boy of many flaws)
An educator full of eidolon laws
Yeah we all have our faults, but still we gotta stand tall
But ya know that life is all about the things that are small
Like velcro laces (good parking spaces)
A smiling face that brings upon a sunny day's grace

Your boyfriend doesn't love you and he stole all your stuff
Your crappy job is crappy so enough is enough
I know you may be thinking that this life is unfair
At least we have the little things
Like fresh gummy bears

Drinking, smoking, taking drugs
What is the use?
Gummies are a better form of substance abuse

A gummy bear is harmless
There's no reason to fear it
Unless you are allergic to high-fructose corn syrup

And people are always asking doctor
Oh how he does it?
How I manage to crack a smile in a world that's erupted
You say you're having' a bad day
Well simply do what I say
Roll your window down and sing so loud
They'll hear you indeed

Your girlfriend doesn't love you and your life is a joke
Your car is out of gas and now you're totally broke
But the saddest and the baddest luck can never compare to a sunny summer afternoon
With fresh gummy bears
(Check it out now)

Your boyfriend doesn't love you and he stole all your stuff
Your crappy job is crappy so enough is enough
I know you may be thinking that this life is unfair
At least we have the little things
Like fresh gummy bears»¿

You boyfriend doesn't love you and you're totally broke
Nothing Last Forever so your life's not a joke
I waited for a long time
So get back on your feet and then say "Who the heck cares?"
Go look them in the face and say,
"Go suck on some bears"
