Excuses

Ten Foot Pole

It was the alcohol you said
Took away your common sense
You don't remember a thing
Unconsciousness is your defenseIt's everybody's fault but yours
And now we must forgive
How can we hold a grudge
When you can't remember what you did?But it's not so easy to forgive
No matter what you say
It's not so easy to forget
It won't just go awayIt will never be the same
We will never be the sameYou'll never drink that much again
Those intentions sound just great
And while I'm glad to see you've learned
I think it's just a little, a little too lateIt's everybody's fault but yours
And now we must forgive
How can we hold a grudge
When you can't remember what you did?But it's not so easy to forgive
No matter what you say
It's not so easy to forget
It won't just go awayThings will never be the same
It will never be the same
We will never be the same
We will never be the same
