HopeyoudieXO

Paddock Park

Lets burn these bridges and disconnect from our encounters
You'll never know the trails that I've been through
The trails that I've been through
Let's go through life and never speak again
Watch your mouth I hope you dieConsequences I tried so hard to make the wrong ones right
I hope this will be the same
The same some day
You won't I can't
End this without putting up a fight
This is my last chance
I hope you dieIf I could scream it in your face I'd scream it every day
Just to show you how much this means to me
Our friendship was reckless and sometimes bleak
So let's end on good terms
And never speak againWatch what you say
