Angels

Black Mountain

Oh come on, lay your halo down
Well angels, lay your arms around
Now every city's seen the setting sun
Call 'em kicks, you know they just begun
So come on, lay your halo downOh lady, lady, don't let your worry please
Oh, you got something
And that ain't nothing to just let beSo why you kicking all your storms around
And keeping fake down in the underground?
Oh come on, lay your halo downSo why you kicking all your rollies 'round
And keeping fake down in the underground?
We won't call curtains till we know that you have found
