Learn My Lesson

Young Guns

i'am a wavering candle light
i remain but I'm ever slight
Through all my years
I sit
In my room in the fading light
Righting back all my wrongs tonight
Cos I'm still hereBoarded up all the doors
And I swallowed all the keys
I'm still haunted by
All the things I'll never beTo live
Is to learn
Oh the heart's a heavy burden
So I take
I don't wait
Nothing ever is for certain
And I hold my hands up high
On my knees tonight
I'll take
Won't wait
I will live and learn my lesson here tonightI ,Never knew it could be so cold
But I burnt all the things I used to hold so dear
Still I fight
With my pen in my hand held tight
Writing protest songs tonight cos I'm still hereBoarded up all the doors
And I swallowed all the keys
I'm still haunted by
All the things I'll never beTo live
Is to learn
Oh the heart's a heavy burden
So I take
I don't wait
Nothing ever is for certain
And I hold my hands up high
On my knees tonight
I'll take
Won't wait
I will live and learn my lesson here tonightI'll get off my knees and fight
Kick down the doors let in the light tonight
TonightTo live

Is to learn
Oh the heart's a heavy burden
So I take
I don't wait
Nothing ever is for certain
And I hold my hands up high
On my knees tonight
I'll take
Won't wait
I will live and learn my lesson here tonight

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/