Closer To Your Heart

Clannad

It's the same old story, when someone astounds you
The harder they come yes the harder they fall
Takin' it easy no matter what people say
And time will heal all your troubles awayI've got a notion
I might as well be closer to your heart
It's out in the open
I might as well be closer to your heartTossing and turning
And burning dreams across the night
Forever searching, silently waiting for such a long time
But will I know tomorrow if you will be mine?I've got a notion
I might as well be closer to your heart
It's out in the open
I might as well be closer to your heartSo it's the same old story, when someone astounds you
That the harder they come yes the harder they fall
Like takin' it easy no matter what people say
And time will heal all your troubles awayI've got a notion
I might as well be closer to your heart
It's out in the open
I might as well be closer to your heartI've got a notion
I might as well be closer to your heart
It's out in the open
I might as well be closer to your heart
