Regret

Drowning Pool

I've seen pictures of a bright sun shining face
And I know it
I've heard stories of a child not yet out of place
So well, I remember this
Through it all I've learned so much about you
What a dirty shame
So blinding, a self righteous point of view
How many fingers is this?
You can't take it all back, take it back
You did it, you said it, now you will regret it
You can't take it all back, take it back
You did it, you said it, now you will regret it
You can't wreck my world with the things you down
You can't take it all back, take it all back, take it back
You did it, you said it, now you will regret it
Now you're gonna regret it
It started just like a dream
It started just like a dream
Smiles turned upside down
Good times 180 around
What a devil your god has made of you
How do his words taste?
And which finger does he use when he points at you
I bet I know this
You can't take it all back, take it back
You did it, you said it, now you will regret it
You can't take it all back, take it back
You did it, you said it, now you will regret it
You can't wreck my world with the things you do
You can't take it all back, take it all back, take it back
You did it, you said it, now you will regret it
Now you're gonna regret it, now you're gonna
Why did you cross the line I drew?
Only you can adore you
And why did you throw the words you threw
I can never forgive you, only you can adore you
You can't take it all back, take it back
You did it, you said it, now you will regret it
You can't take it all back, take it back

You did it, you said it, now you will regret it
You can't wreck my world with the things you do
You can't take it all back, take it all back, take it back
You did it, you said it, now you will regret it
Now you're gonna regret it, yeah, you're gonna
Tell me now, tell me, now you're gonna regret it
Tell me now, tell me, now you're gonna regret it
Tell me now, tell me, now you're gonna regret it
Tell me now
