

Breathing Slowly

Crossfade

Who am I to save you
To try and tame you and now that you are free of me
But next time when you break down
Is it me you'll take down, with you on your knees So who was I to hurt you
To desert you when you needed me there
So now that you've learnt to hate me
You're finally set free, and fall to my knees And I'm real slowly like you said
To doin' you, it lost control
My head spins from God's wind
That carries you away from me Looks like you got away
From me this time for good But since those days have passed me by
I'm in and out of life, the way you used to be, yeah
You know I always was the strong one
But now I've on come down sweet release to me And I'm real slowly like you said
To doin' you, it lost control
My head spins from God's wind
That carries you away from me Looks like you got away
From me this time
You got away, oh, yeah
You got away for good
