Today

Joshua Radin

Shoelaces untied
You can dry your eyes
Perfect shadows lie
Behind us
This is the day i make you mine
The way your hair lies sometimes unrecognized
All the way from these today on a train
Nothing to say but there's still time
But you are the one
I've been waiting for today
And here comes the sun
It's been beating more today
Lately I've lost my tongue

Today you found my song
I know our love has grown
Well I thank God u came along
But you are the one
I've been waiting for today
And here comes the sun
It's been beating more today
You looked right through me
When there was no one else
I sat beside you and became myself
Today... today
You are the one
I've been waiting for today
And here comes the sun
It's been beating more today
