

Turquoise

Sinew

surrender to the undertow between the fields of Caesar TV

I'm patient humming in your head swear at me follow me I'll bring you home

she said
"on my shoulders you can lay your weight" sinking
into the black surrounding come kiss the broken child

it's all made up for you inviting you to rest in silence strung out and pitiful
grab the gun that'll take you back to life

a bullet for convenience another for the servant of habit I'm vibrant excitement in your waist take the bait join me in the dance of life

she said

your shape will burn in perfect turquoise
