Apocalypse

Jackie Evancho

Fixing to find you in this treacherous terrain
There's landslide, and landmines, it's a jungle that we made
You're not the king of it no more
I'm not the girl that you'd die for None of us is better than the other
None of us is better than the otherIt draws blood
The sweet sting
But it's poison that we know
I thank God you found me
And God knows how I let you goAre we a kingdom worth saving?
Is it a shadow I'm chasing?
I know I'll never see you in another
You know you'll never see me in anotherTo lose you, really lose you
I'm gonna have to lose myself
I'm gonna have to lose myself
No matter how long it will hurt like this
We're not gonna live until the apocalypse
Gotta go crazy, crazy to lose youDay flies, and night falls
I break out my artillery
I suit up for night crawls
I go out, disguised as meNo matter how much I flaunt it
I can't go home 'cause it's haunted
I don't know if my heart can still afford this Sleeping in a bed that was our fortressTo lose you, really lose you
I'm gonna have to lose myself
I'm gonna have to lose myself
No matter how long it will hurt like this
We're not gonna live until the apocalypse
Gotta go crazy, crazy to lose youUsed to love listening to sad songs
Strikes my fingers all along
The silver linings
Now I don't listen to sad songs course my old world is blowing up behind me
It's all gone for good
A better world will find meTo lose you, really lose you
I'm gonna have to lose myself
I'm gonna have to lose myself
No matter how long it will hurt like this
We're not going to live until the apocalypse

Gotta go crazy, crazy to lose youNo matter how long it will hurt like this
We're not going to live till the apocalypse
Gotta go crazy, crazy to lose you
