

The Called

Matt and Josie Minikus

Sometimes I think I have to be perfect for God to use me
I think I have to know it all never stumble never fall
I focus on all my inadequacies instead of what Christ can do through me
I forget to trust and I can't quite see

That God doesn't call the qualified
He qualifies the called
He'll supply your every need
When we choose to give him all
You can be too big for God to use but you'll never be too small
'cause God doesn't call the qualified, He qualifies His called

There is no one too young to serve no one too old, no clay too hardened for our Father to mold
He has a place designed for you that no one else can fill
He will give you what you need when you choose to do His will

'Cause God doesn't call the qualified
He qualifies the called
He'll supply your every need
When you choose to give Him all
You can be too big for God to use but you'll never be too small
'cause God doesn't call the qualified, he qualifies His called

So don't hinder God with what you say you can't do
Just be willing, ready to be used Go where He leads where the heart that is willing of telling what He'll do through you

'Cause God doesn't call the qualified
He qualifies the called
He'll supply your every need
When we choose to give Him all
You can be too big for God to use but you'll never be too small
'cause God doesn't call the qualified, he qualifies His called

Now God doesn't call the qualified
He qualifies His called
