

The Hungry Ghost

Wardove

All the things we never know we need
Looks like we get them in the end
Measure time in leisure time and greed
And by the time we get to spendA floating bed, a head of stone
A home plugged into every phone
Kimono coral floral print
Exclusive tint and cut reclusiveNo, it doesn't come for free
But it's the price we pay for happinessNo, don't talk about more to life than this
Dream a world maybe no one owns
No, don't think about all the life we miss
Swallow doubt as the hunger grows
Make believe it's like no one knows
Even if we turn more to most
We'll never satisfy the hungry ghostAll the stuff we know we never want
Seems like we get it anyway
Safe to say it isn't really wrong
Not when we know we only throw it all awayYeah, all of this we never know we want
It's like we get it anyway
Safe to say it isn't ever wrong
Better to get than to delayA 3D screen, a cleaner fit
A bit pulled out of every hit
Addicted latest greatest piece
Design caprice and make the headlineNo, it doesn't come for free
But it's the price we pay for happinessNo, don't talk about more to life than this
Dream a world maybe no one owns
No, don't think about all the life we miss
Swallow doubt as the hunger grows
Make believe it's like no one knows
Even if we turn more to most
We'll never satisfy the hungry ghostAnd all of this we know we never need
Well, it's the price we pay for happiness
