

The Bugle Sounds Again

Aztec Camera

Still, so, here we go, nighthawk calls again
Meeting after midnight like we do
Flesh bared, never scared, know their kind too well
Grab that Gretsch before the truth hits town
You whispered to me as they fell When I'm safe and sound with nothing left to send
The bugle sounds again The cards are on the table now and every other cliché
Somehow fits me like a glove
You know that I'd be loathe to call it love For strength will come to tower above
The things that I've learned to love
Just as I'm about to say 'Amen'
The bugle sounds again The vampire's made a killing
Filled their pockets up with shillings
Saying someone has to pay, you were still in hiding
Singing come and cry beside me, so I ran away But when I'm safe and sound with nothing left to send
The bugle sounds again
The bugle sounds again

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>