Moonwalking

Late Night Alumni

Cold feet
But not like the cold that I used to know
The back beat
Sounds as if I'm hearing it over the phoneOne day the moon just changed
I didn't know until I watched the stars alone
I'd have never knownAnd I forgot
Not to watch for the sun to rise
And there was the moon
Posed alongside in the same skyMoon walking, the stars have eyes
Open even when the sun is high
Moon bathing in space not time
I might need you when I'm out of lightIt's light outside
He's only needed when the sun is gone
A cosmic white, let him leave
Let him right his wrongsMoon walking, the stars have eyes
Open even when the sun is high
Moon bathing in space not time
I might need you when I'm out of lightCloser now, white, forthright
You're no fire but you're warm and bright
Aurora night, a moon like light
Till the shine drowns the eventide
