

Letting Go

Mohombi

Gotta get myself together
Tryna make it through tonight
Tell myself that we were never broken
There were times i thought that i might be Finding ways to make it right
But u walked away and opened up my eyes
Now i see that i been wasting time
I had a picture of us painted in my mind
Now it's fading and there's nothing left to do
Letting go, cuz i know
U were only halfway there
Even though we were close
I was holding on just long enough to know
I should be letting go. I should be letting go Thinking back on when u used to fill my heart with empty words
Wishing now that i'd refused to listen
How did i ever let it happen

Never thought i'd ever say
Gotta leave this life and all the foolish pain
Now i see that i've been wasting time
I had a picture of us painted in my mind
Now it's fading and there's nothing left to do
Letting go, cuz i know
U were only halfway there
Even though we were close
I was holding on just long enough to know
I should be letting go. I should be letting go
Now i see that i've been wasting time
I had a picture of us painted in my mind
Now it's fading and there's nothing left to do
Letting go, cuz i know
U were only halfway there
Even though we were close
I was holding on just long enough to know
I should be letting go, (i should let you go)
i should be letting go

Lyrics provided by <https://damnlyrics.com/>