Friendly Fish

Kate Martin

You should be more than happy, are you having me on?
I threw the ring you gave me in the bellberry pond
I'm sorry but should know I'm impulsive as hell
Would you be disappointed if I purposely fell? No?

Swimming in the ocean on a warm summer's night
We're choosing to be happy when there's nothing that's right
I met you and I now know what I'm waiting for I hardly have a reason you're the one I adore. So...

Chorus

I'll be waiting by the phone
You'll be running down the hill
I'll be screaming out for help
You'll be cryin' to me, "Oh, I'm in so much pain"
Cause it hurts, it hurts, but it's changing my face and your molding me good
Oh, it hurts, it hurts when you hold me up high and you turn me round

You want just what you can't have, it's a game that you play
You find just what you're after, then you throw it away
If only I could travel back or just hit rewind
Honey are you changing or are you changing my mind? I dunno...

Gonna be more potential when you're fishin' on the reef
Perhaps you'll get a bite and then she'll kick you in the teeth
I only caught a catfish when I wanted a trout
I know you're disappointed, but there's no need to shout..

Chorus
---
Lyrics submitted by Andrew Brown.

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/