Russian Roulette

Edwin McCain

Hey, boy, pushin' on your girlfriend
Trying to show her all the pain you feel
Yeah, and your head's all scrambled 'cause the love is gone
And you don't know what went wrong

But I think I heard you hissing something about blue steelWhen you talk about something like gun play

Well, let me tell you it's a losing battle

But when the hammer falls all bets are called

And five to one you're gonna lose

When you talk about something like a Russian Roulette

Yeah yeah Yeah Tears run down your sweet love's face

I say, she's a mirror of your insides

Yeah, and you can't scream loud enough to let it go

And the mouthful of pride, you just can't swallow

Rips your souls like a hurricane tideYeah, but when you talk about something like gun play

Well, let me tell you it's a losing battle

Yeah, and when the hammer falls all bets are called

And five to one you're gonna lose

When you talk about something like a Russian Roulette

YeahWell, now pack up your ego and your tantrum

Put it back with your anger and your pride

Beating up on your girlfriend

Ain't gonna change anything insideWhen you talk about something like gun play

Well, let me tell you it's a losing battle

Well, when the hammer falls all bets are called

And five to one you're gonna lose

When you talk about something like a Russian Roulette

Yeah yeah When you talk about something like gun play

Well, let me tell you it's a losing battle

But when the hammer falls all bets are called

And five to one you're gonna lose

When you talk about something like a Russian Roulette

Yeah yeah
