

When You've Lost It All

Boiling Point

You try to keep it together, feeling broken and bruised
You're scared this fall has you fading into twilight, You're not alone, no, He's still got you. He's what's left when you've lost it all
Reaching out when you start to fall into pieces
He's been the star that's guided you through the night
He's still there when you hit the wall and when you've lost it all. He's been there for you forever, 6 months is seconds to Him
One touch is all you need for him to heal you, yeah I know you'll make it through, yeah
He's what's left when you've lost it all
(when you've lost it all)
Reaching out when you start to fall into pieces
He's been the star that's guided you through the night
He's still there when you hit the wall and when you've lost it all.
He is bigger than any mountain and can make gray skies turn blue,
He is stronger than your greatest weakness, yeah, just let Him love you
He what's left when you've lost it all
He's reaching out when you start to fall
He's what's left when you've lost it all
(when you've lost it all)
Reaching out when you start to fall into pieces
He's been the star that's guided you through the night
He's still there when you hit the wall and when you've lost it all.
Yeah, when you've lost
it

allWriters: Red CoCo Publishing ASCAP / Admin by FunAttic Music (PJ Heimerman), Nottinghill Music /
Songs of Universal (BMI), KOMusic / Simply Complex Songs / (SESAC). Administered by Music Services, Inc.

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>