

Waifs And Strays

Marc Almond

And so they say they're leaving
While you sleep away the day
You go out every evening
Collecting waifs and strays They follow their illusions
They don't know what to do
They need a clear direction
That's why they turn to you You're pleading
Please don't leave me
Don't go from me so soon
I need to be found
For I'm a stray too Don't go
Just wait until tomorrow
Just wait until tomorrow
Just wait until tomorrow On the streets of Paris
On the streets of Rome
They find a home
In shadow or in coffee bars
Down the winding alleys
Through the brightly lit arcades
No matter where they are In and out of life they wander
Little waifs and strays
They stay until you fall in love
That's when they slip away In the dark you'll see
Those sad brown eyes come shining through
Your heart will melt
You felt the way they looked at you Don't go
Just wait until tomorrow
Just wait until tomorrow
Just wait until tomorrow You find you need someone
To love your days away
Just when your heart is crying out
Please stay
Don't go away Just wait until tomorrow
Just wait until tomorrow
Just wait until tomorrow
Just wait until tomorrow Yes it's true
I'm a stray too

Songwriters

MARC ALMOND Published by

Lyrics © Warner/Chappell Music, Inc. Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>