

Western Skies

Roddy Frame

Our love's the sound of broken skies
Too blind to see what lies inside
We love what shines before our eyes
Why can't we learn what hides
Waiting on the last train
Flicking through the highlights
Livin' in a suitcase
Positively uptight
Kissing in the full moon
Drowning in the sunshine
Walking on a tight rope
And everything is gonna be just fine
'Cause I believe in your heart of gold
Automatically sunshine
Yeah glitter, glitter everywhere
Like working in a goldmine
And we believe that there's a heart beats on
In the dark of the close down
Yeah glitter, glitter everywhere
Like working in a goldmine
And time not tied is time to feed
We lose our pride, we spill our seed
The worst of us escape so slow
The best of us just goes
By waiting on the last train
Flicking through the highlights
Livin' in a suitcase
Positively uptight
Kissing in the full moon
Drowning in the sunshine
Walking on a tight rope
And everything is gonna be just fine
'Cause I believe in your heart of gold
Automatically sunshine
Yeah glitter, glitter everywhere
Like working in a goldmine
And we believe that there's a heart beats on
In the dark of the close down
Yeah glitter, glitter everywhere
Like working in a goldmine
They'll make you work for everything
Never let it roll, never let it swing
Take control and let your heart sing
Baby, every thing's gonna be alright
Positively uptight
Baby, every thing's gonna be just fine
And everything is gonna be just fine
Waiting on the last train
Flicking through the highlights
