Live Again

Outloud

Feeling nothing, lonely, empty
You try to walk away but you fall
You cannot understand what's this for
In this world I see it more
The pain you feel that I ignore, hey
You see my face and then you see nothin'
Confused, you turn and live on
I turn my face, you're staring back again
Look at yourself and live again
Can't see me, you'll feel me
Want me, you'll find me
I'll be your everything, will you call?
You'll need more and more when you fall
In this world I see it more
The pain you feel that I ignore, hey

You see my face and then you see nothin'
Confused, you turn and live on
I turn my face, you're staring back again
Look at yourself and live again
How many times have you looked at yourself and felt mistreated?
How does it feel to know that this life of yours is real?
All of your life you've been led to believe you're nothing
So look at yourself and start to live again
You see my face and then you see nothin'
Confused, you turn and live on
I turn my face, you're staring back again
Look at yourself and live again
If you don't change you'll be nothin'
So look at yourself and live again
I turn my face, you're staring back again
So look at yourself and live again
