

One Woman Too Many

Paul Gilbert

Well, I got one
One woman too many
Well, I got one
One more than I can use
Yes, I got one
One woman too many
And they're both here telling me
That I got to choose Well, I got one girl now
She is so lovely
I could watch her smiling face
Every minute of the day
And there ain't no
No other woman like her
I just can't imagine
Telling her to go away I got another girl
She sure do love me
Everytime I'm with her
She just treat me right
She does other things
To make a man happy
Without her sweet loving
I couldn't make it through the night (Solo) Wait I know you can love your sons and your daughters
And no one will tell ya it's a wrong thing to do
But if you try to give your love
To more than one woman
The whole damn world is gonna look down on you So I try, try, try to make my decision
Though I must admit I've not quite made it yet
'cause of course, I will always love
The one who I stay with
But you know that other girl I will never forget
You know that other girl I will never forget
Still that other girl I will never forget
