Travel Wide

Sisyphos

a lonely tree
surrounded by hills
the sun shines strong
the wind is turning the mills a flock of birds is dancing while i'm passing by the form of clouds is changing in the blue sky
big white mountains
appear in the distance sleeping old giants
in their timeless existence (timeless existence)
clocks stop ticking
and i start to feel free (start to feel free)
ready to live
(ready to live)
ready to see
travel wide
it can open your mind
and fill up your soul
travel wide
discover the secrets of this beautiful world
travel wide
it's time to chill out
it's time to let yourself go
travel wide
being part of something being part of the whole the sky is so clear snowy fields the cold river between the sun so pale
a cold breeze
trough calm waters i sail the wind is blowing softly it is stroking my face the horizon is changing colours

painting all over the place walking here
(walking here)
walking there
(walking there)
a singing is floating
trough the air
(walking here)
walking there
(walking there)
see all my troubles
blown away
