

Beautiful Now

Matt Brouwer

If you had to lose your life now would you
Even if you couldn't live another day
If you had to tear your heart out could you
If what it meant was giving it away
You need something beautiful
You need something to break your heart
You need something to tear your world apart Everything is beautiful
Beautiful now
Everything is beautiful
It's okay to lay it down If you had to trust in something could you
Even if you couldn't see it with your eyes
If you had to start all over would you
Even if you had to give up your disguise
You need something beautiful
You need something to break your heart
You need something to tear your world apart Everything is beautiful
Beautiful now
Everything is beautiful
It's okay to lay it down Love can save a life like music warms the night
Everything is beautiful now
So open up your eyes, fall into the light
Everything is beautiful now Everything is beautiful
Beautiful now
Everything is beautiful
It's okay to lay it down It's beautiful now
Oh you've got to let it go
It's okay to lay it down, to lay it down

Songwriters

JEFFREY B. FRANZEL, EVE NELSON, MARIA CHRISTENSEN Published by Lyrics © BIRD WINS PUBLISHING

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>