Legacy

Shadow Gallery

Future's here, the time has come to pass the torch
Now go and touch the sky every time that you breathe
I hope you've learned to covet not the evil ways
Live your life, free, free from carnal lustHedonistic decadence and lies, are you strong?
Turn from heathen ways, will you ride?
Ride with me, the open road, part of me is now part of you
My legacy is how I live on the circle formed
We are joined across space and timeMany days will pass you by and you'll still hear
These words to you, many things to realize
The hope I give, sustaining you
Wear the armor of righteousness each day
Then, forever in glory, we'll remainWill you bend when the hammer falls?
Are you steel? Inquisitions search you out
Part of me is now part of you
My legacy is how I live on the circle formed
We are joined across space and timePart of you is now part of me
Our legacy, it's how we live on relational bonds
Not just wayfaring souls set to fly away
