

Somewhere

Darius Rucker

I'm still standing, I'm still here
For I seen another year

I'm still knowing, I'm still growing
Still believing, still achieving

I'm still walking, I'm still talking
I'm still seeing, I'm still reaching

What I'm simply trying to say is this?
There is one on how he does exist
More than whom you can capture this
There is a God somewhere
Yes there's a God up there, ooh, ooh

I'm not trying to preach, only trying to say how I feel
Oh there's no, other name I choose to call when my back Up against the wall, ooh I need to know when out, in my Soul that there's someone somewhere up on high ooh but When I look into my little girl's eyes I see, why I feel
This spirit inside and I know I

I'm still crying, I'm still smiling
I'm still searching, I'm still finding
I'm still breathing, I'm still living
Still receiving, yet still giving
I'm still hoping, I'm still trusting
I'm still caring, I'm still loving

What I'm simply trying to say Is this?
There is one on how he does exist
More than whom you can capture this
There is a God somewhere
There is a God somewhere
There is a God somewhere
There is a God somewhere
Yes there's a God somewhere

I know I know there's a God somewhere
I can feel him in my soul

Somewhere I know that there's a God
There's a God somewhere
He's the ruler of our world
Maker, giving it all up to you, there's a
God somewhere
Ooh, somewhere, the Almighty is somewhere

Lyrics powered by lyrics.tancode.com written by RUCKER, DARIUS/NIXON, DANNY/JOHNSON, DANIEL Lyrics Â© EMI Music Publishing

Lyrics provided by <https://damnlyrics.com/>