

Traveller's Chant

Rizzle Kicks

Last week, I was passenger on a car seat thinking of decision's that I made within a heartbeat she used to make my heartbeat, it usually alarms me lungs are overworking and I can't breathe yes, I convinced myself I didn't like relationship malarkey she said, wait you didn't ask me how I felt I said I love that you're a nice girl and I'm sorry but this really wasn't timed well it kinda feels like it was maybe a blur maybe coffee can tell us but I'd mainly prefer feel like I've gotta scratch the surface, gotta break it to learn and now I'll multiply the times and wish the tables had turned I call this the travellers chant whether you're sitting on a train or in the back of a car thinking, maybe it's me, yes I do have places to be (got places to be) and do I start at the end or end at the start in this little bit of time, will I get very far maybe it's me, yes I do have places to be and I'll be there yes, yeah the other day I was sitting in a train but in other place I was on my way home or maybe some would say I was thinking bout the days I wanna run away I've only really got a couple mates me, myself and I, how cliché looking out the window, feels like I'm in a film director, producer and as it happens, I'm the main character yeah, my own little feature, link soundtrack, me and whatever's in my speakers then I'd rather not be held accountable I bank on peoples feelings, it's no wonder why I'm feeling spent yeah and in a deeper sense, sometimes I need the rain that helps me kinda clean my head the suns an easy friend I'm thinking maybe the duration of my journey helped my reconnect my feelings I call this the travellers chant whether you're sitting on a train or in the back of a car
and i'll be there oh oh oh, yeah oh oh oh oh, i'll be there oh oh oh oh, i got places to be and i'll be there etci call this the travellers chant whether you're sitting on a train or in the back of a car

and i'll be there x2
