

Spirit of a Woman

Radmilla Cody

I am my voice, my prayers,
she who walks mother earth and sings her songs.
In all that is sacred, that is said, that is told,
I cry for my people for the world

For it is the world that i carry in my heart for it is the world that i give life. i am life.

i am the flower, the sky, the eagle who flies
the earth, the sea
I manifest all things
this is me, this is me.

embracing all that embodies the woman in who I am sharing the most intricate part of my being.
i need not validation for what I hear, feel, or see validation is me.

i carry my rhythms
and heal from the drumbeat in my soul all this in the essence of what makes me whole
i am my voice, my prayers,
She who walks mother earth and sings her songs
in all that is sacred, that is said, that is told.
I am the spirit of a woman.
