

Bitter Memories

Bahamas

When you, you get through Whatever it is you been up to
I'll still be he, still be he that drew you inAnd if they should ever say
All your love did was get in my way,
I'll defend you, I'll pretend it's not that way (hey)Though the memory of us is sweeter than we really were,
Wouldn't trade all those bitter memories for herI hope he's all I'm not,
And gives you every little thing he's got Strength and care, knows that you are a rare birdOne who can't be tamed
Still it's all the men before me they're the ones I blame
You can add my name to the long heavy chain around youThough the memory of us is sweeter than we really were,
wouldn't trade all those bitter memories for her.

Lyrics provided by <https://damnlyrics.com/>