

Song of Life

Eurielle

I see the light this summer dawn
I am alive, I am newborn
I am afraid the world is new
I do not know what I must try to do

But I will try to find my way
For today, it is my first day
The seasons come, the seasons go
We face the world when new and so we grow

The bite of spring and summer sun
As autumn fades and winter comes again
This is the land, the land we love
Under the endless sky above

One flower blooms and fades away
Beyond this leave, we have no time to stew
From mountains sloughs to water runs
From forest hills into the desert sands

And so it goes from me to you
Across the land from far and in
But the still the song of life goes on.

Lyrics Submitted by Ã•rien LindallÃ«

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnlyrics.com/>