Smile In the Crowd

Martin L. Gore

You turned me away
Away from your actions
Forced by the violence
That always surrounds youI want your special smile
A smile in this crowd
I want your special smile
A smile in this crowdYou burnt yourself out
In that silence
I have to tell you
I ache for you still
The sound of my words
Is always so shocking
They get much louder
Each time I speakI want your special smile
A smile in this crowd
A smile in this crowdSignals of progress
We're growing much older
I'm afraid that I'll leave
And my ache never goesI want your special smile
A smile in this crowd
