Yellow Balloon

Talia Paul

Follow me until the dawn
Orange trees on mother?s lawn
To the chapel in the valley when the day is done
And we?ll get married when our friends have gone
In the pines we learn to speak
In the leaves forget to breath
If you hear your mama calling get away from me
If you hear your mama calling get away from me
Secret hand shakes, the swimming hole
Keep awake, and we will not go old
Come on everyone come undone
Try to keep your face out of the sun
And if you get lost at the face of the moon
Follow the boy with the yellow balloon

Follow me until the dawn
Orange trees on mother?s lawn
To the chapel in the valley when the day is done
And we?ll get married when our friends have gone
In the pines we learn to speak
In the leaves forget to breath
If you hear your mama calling get away from me
If you hear your mama calling get away from me
Secret hand shakes, the swimming hole
Keep awake, and we will not go old
Come on everyone come undone
Try to keep your face out of the sun
And if you get lost at the face of the moon
Follow the boy with the yellow balloon
