

Can't Let Go

Prosevere

it's typical losing sleep
holding hands
breathing deep holding on one more day

I realize
things are wrong
a fallacy
all along
I never knew what to say

you live and then you learn sometimes
you're broken and shattered like nothing else matters it's taking you down

I can't let go
(nothing else matters, it's taking you down)
I'm down too low
(broken and shattered, it's taking you down)
I can't let go
(nothing else matters, it's taking you down)
look out below
I can't let go

it's difficult to breathe the air
when all your dreams
meet despair
we're losing time
we're out of touch

and all the times
we walked the streets
the sentiments
before defeat
we never knew

it'd hurt this much
this much

you live and then you learn
sometimes
you're broken and shattered like nothing else matters
it's taking you down

I can't let go
(nothing else matters, it's taking you down)
I'm down too low
(broken and shattered, it's taking you down)
I can't let go
(nothing else matters, it's taking you down)
look out below
