

Half a Man

America

I'm only half a man
When I'm not by your side
I try to make a plan
And I don't try to hide So come on over closer to me
And everything will be just like it should be Why don't you help me?
Please don't stand on your pride
I feel so empty
Why don't you let me inside? Come on over closer to me
And everything will be just like it should be You set my soul on fire
You fill me with desire
When I'm near you I'm only half a man
When I'm not by your side
I try to make a plan
And I don't try to hide So come on over closer to me
And everything will be just like it should be
