Abilene

Abilene

Something's goin' on, I don't know what it is
But my phone just rang and I didn't get no call
No call, just waiting here
Abilene, it's got a lot of what you don't need
It's got lots of space, still nothing seems misplaced
You've got a face, you are spacey
You got to take it as it comes to you
Don't need no act of contemplation
Just keep it off your wasteful way for now
It's not you who has got to change
It's not your way at all, it's got to be you
It's got to be you, the look in your eyes
The feel of your body close to me
It's got to be you

Who tells me the world would spin away without love
You, reason, oh, reason for being once more together
It's got to be you
It's got to be you, the look in your eyes
The feel of your body close to me
It's got to be you
Who tells me the world would spin away without love
You, reason, oh, reason for being once more together
It's got to be you
It's got to be you
It's got to be you
It's got to be you
