

I Walked

Wanderlust

Cold grey water up in the sky Dripping down on the city and I I'm walking I'm running I'm standing still I turn around and look down on the folks on the hill and I loved you and I I walked until the night was far behind
I walked until the sun opened my eyes
I walked until I forgot what was mine then I made up my mind The tables were turning we sat stone face to face the waitresses were humming we gotta get out of this place...
Reflection in the window looked like you and I and someone started humming
It was "1999" and I loved you and I I walked until the night was far behind
I walked until the sun opened my eyes
I walked until I forgot what was mine
then I made up my mind And she was far behind and something caught my eye
two lovers side by side
