The 12th Of September

Xavier Rudd

It's come to our attention
Life now is bound to change
While we the peaceful majority
We sit back and anticipateThese are our days now
These are not the same now
These are not the same
These human beings are dangerous
Their greed is contagious
Now the world it waitsThese people they attacked our freedom
Their weapons technology and hate
Lives were stolen without warning
Brothers and sisters now erased- Chorus -
These are our days now
These are not the same now
These are not the same
These human beings are dangerous
Their greed is contagious
Now the world it waits
