

Ammi Ammi

Archy Marshall

Boys and girls, the Lord is the one who gives us new life and He's doing...Lonely, I slowly slip into a pool of dope

She takes my hand and doesn't let go

I feel it deep within my soul

Oh, this person hates my bones I'm slowly hit and I slowly drift away

She's the type I carry by my side,

Keeps me balanced, keeps her talons in my thigh

Reminds me of the damage of how I live my life

Keeps my salary damaged, hanging from the line

Love's a little bitch she loves to play me Barry White, girl she plays me Barry White,

All night as we drift into life

We just want to let things roll by (just roll by)

We don't care where we're day or all night

We just want to let things roll by (just roll by)

We don't care where we're day or all night

We just want to let things roll by (things roll by)

We don't care where we're day or all night

We just want to let things roll by (things roll by)

We just want to let things roll by (things roll by)

We don't care where we're day or all night

We just want to let things roll by

We don't care
