

Candle for the Lonely

Michelle Malone

Light a candle for all the lonely
Like I used to be so I know
How it feels with no one and only
No sweetheart, nobody to hold Where, oh, where is the someone for everyone
They say swims in the sea
I know it's out there for you
Don't you believe That in your heart you have saved a place
For the one who is looking for you
And all your friends and your family, they are Pulling for love to come through Out there somewhere is someone for everyone
No matter who you might be
I know it can happen for you
It happened for me If I had just one gift to give you
I'd wish you a love like I've found
So keep your head up, don't give up hope
And remember the world turns around So I'll light a candle for all the lonely
Like I used to be so I know
