

True Colors

Figure Four

Don't tell me you have bravery
If you haven't fell this thing called life
Now is the time to attack and I won't look back
[Incomprehensible], I will fight this war
Will fight this warTo face my fears
(To face my fears)
To face my fears
(To face my fears)Where is the war?
In my mind my flesh and in my soul
I fight the lies they put against me
And they're left exposed
With their true colors in the light
Nothing you can say could take what's insideTo face my fearsTo face my fears
(To face my fears)
To face my fears
(To face my fears)Don't tell me you have bravery
If you haven't fell this thing called life
Now is the time to attack and I won't look back
