

Wherever You Go

The Sweet Hurt

I've never left, I don't know where I'm going
I've never learned just by knowing
I've got time and a story line that's waiting
I've got a lot -- a lot of explaining

Tears begin to dry
There's life behind the pines
Beauty in wherever you go
Wherever you go
Wherever you go

Tiny stones, I've sand in my shoe
I've got no one left -- no one to accuse
A heart can be alone, a heart can be full
Don't want to leave with one that is dull

Tears begin to dry
There's life behind the pines
Beauty in wherever you go
Wherever you go
Wherever you go

Tears begin to dry
There's life behind the pines
Beauty in wherever you go
Wherever you go
Wherever you go
Wherever you go
Wherever you go
Wherever you go
Wherever you go
