Closer

Lamb

Things change, yet so much stays the same
Life's just a dream we have of reality
Love's strength enhances what we have
And then it strips us of our sanityStill I stay growing strong
Every day closer to youIt's strange but somehow obvious
That what we want the most, we must let go
Your head is freer still than mine
And not so cluttered with moralityStill I stay growing strong
Every day, yeah, closer to you
Closer to youMemories cloud our minds
Invadin' too much time
We build our very own cagesBlames of no significance
In love, it's of no relevance, to life this very moment
I'm trying every day to live each moment new
And free my heart [Incomprehensible]So I stay growing strong
Every day closer to you
Closer to youStill I stay growing strong
Every day closer to you
Closer to you, closer to you
