

Until the End

Matthew Duffy

Sometimes, I want
Your hands inside my soul
Sometimes, I start
To lose grip and I let go
Sometimes, I can taste
Your kiss on my tongue
Sometimes, I'm afraid
And I start to come undone

If you ever think
That you would want me again
I will wait for you
Until the end

Sometimes, I'm not sure
What it is that I feel
Sometimes, I don't know
If this is even real
Sometimes, I resist
But I want you to break me
Sometimes, I try hard
But I just can't get me free

So if you ever think
That you would want me again
I will wait for you
Until the end
So if I take it back
To what might have been
You are the one
Until the end

Sometimes, I can taste
Your kiss on my tongue
Sometimes, I'm afraid
And I start to come undone

So if you ever think
That you would want me again
I will wait for you

Until the end
So if I take it back
To what might have been
You are the one
Until the end
Until the end
Until the end
Until the end
