Moonchild

Shakespear's Sister

Birds can fly and fish can swim
But on this planet where do I fit in?
I could be in trouble or just imagining
Sometimes I feel like an alienI make them laugh, I make them stare
But Mr. Jones said, "Hey young girl
Don't feel sorry for yourself
The world's out there"There's a moonchild for everyone
Oh little moonchild, you're not the only one
There's a moonchild for everyone
Oh little moonchild, you're not the only oneI looked at the world from another star
That's when you discover where you really are
So if you think you would like the taste
You know there's not much time to waste
So take off into outer space, I'll see you thereThere's a moonchild for everyone
Oh little moonchild, you're not the only one
There's a moonchild for everyone
Oh little moonchild you're not the only one
The only one, no, no, noThere's a moonchild for everyone
Oh little moonchild, you're not the only one
There's a moonchild for everyone
Oh little moonchild, you're not the only one
There's a moonchild for everyone
Oh little moonchild, you're not the only one
The only one, no, no, no

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/